DECLINE IN ORIENT

But Christian Doctrines Equally Menaced in Europe, He Says

VATICAN CITY, Rome, Italy.—(AP)—Pope Pius expressed grave concern Monday over Far Eastern and other world problems at a secret consistory Monday.

The official abstract said he saw what great damages had been sustained in the Far East to heralds of the gospel and flourishing Christian communities, and what even greater damage might be feared for the future.

"Looking toward Europe," he said, "we see with no less sadness the impious and atrocious things which are being perpetrated in Russia and which are being prepared to the danger of Christian life in Germany."

"The people of Christ in Spain who are most dear to us are still agitated by sad and harrowing events, although one begins to see hope of better times."

President McKinley Rescues Passengers Aboard Stricken Ship

MANILA, P. I.—(AP)—The liner President McKinley picked up 453 passengers from the stranded luxury ship President Hoover off two rocky islets Monday and steamed toward Manila.

A radio message from the McKinley's master said 134 cabin passengers and 319 third class passengers were taken from Hoshoto and Hayake islands, east of Formosa, where the Dollar liner Hoover piled on a reef last Friday.

2 Held on Charges of Chicken Theft

Local Negroes Bound Over for Action of the Grand Jury

Grady Richards and Pat Simmons, negroes, were held for action of Hempstead circuit court when arraigned Monday in municipal court on charges of stealing chickens.

The negroes waived examination and were ordered held under $200 bonds each.

Deputy Sheriff Reginald Bearden said the negroes stole 11 chickens from Miss Hamilton, negro, who lives on the Hope-Columbus road. Officers pointed out that stealing chickens was a penitentiary offense.

Other cases: Leonard Cox was ordered held for action of circuit court on a charge of assault with intent to kill David Steel by cutting and stabbing him with a knife. Bond was fixed at $300.

Joe White and J. G. Garrett forfeited $10 cash bonds on charges of drunkenness. Claude Wilson, Bill Tucker and Leslie Wallace pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness. Each was fined $10.

The trial of Charles Klaproth, charged with giving an overdraft, was continued until January 3.

Lamar Cotton Oil company was given judgment of $120 in a civil suit brought against Claude W. Garner for action on account.

McKee Hardware company was given judgment of $23.72 in a civil suit brought against W. T. Bateman for action on account.

Child Restored to Parents by Court

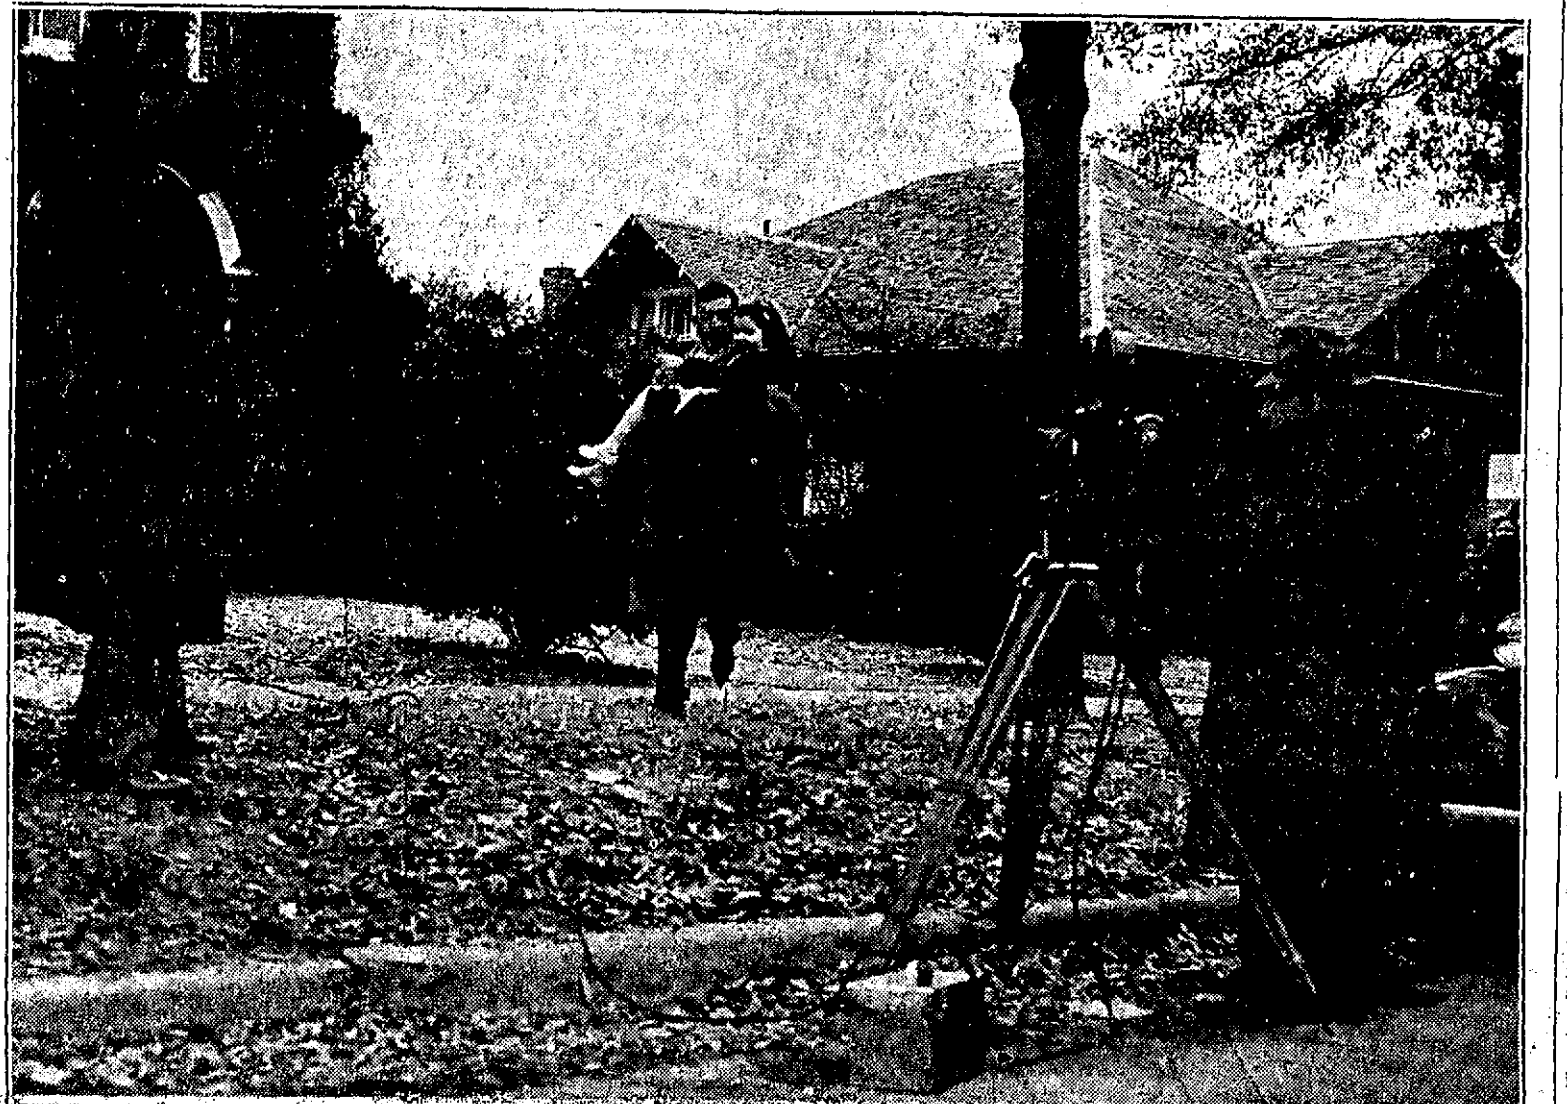

Supreme Court Upholds Natural Rather Than Foster-Parents

LITTLE ROCK.—(AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court returned to his natural parents Monday 7-year-old Billy Joe Coleman, who had been reared from infancy by a childless neighbor couple, Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Holmes.

The decision affirmed a Phillips circuit decree awarding custody of the child to Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Coleman of near Helena.

The supreme tribunal held valid the 1937 act allowing county courts to appoint one-half of the three-mile road tax collected within corporate limits of cities and towns to those cities and towns for road and bridge work.

"Help!" It's a Kidnaping--- But That's What the Script Called for as 70 Hope Youngsters Help Make Professional Movie Here

TOP—After a week of rehearsals Hope's first professional talking motion picture was "shot" Saturday with a cast including about 70 local youngsters. Here's the kidnaping scene—the kidnaper running out of John Barlow's house with the "che-eld" (supplied locally). At left, outside the movie "frame," is Director Melton Barker; and of course that's Cameraman Dalton at the Bell & Howell sound camera. Look close, just below the child's dangling foot, and you will see the tripod supporting the microphone hidden in the shrubbery. . . .

Picture, shrieks and all, will be screened at the Saenger December 30-31.

Sinking of U. S. Gunboat, 2 Ships, Admitted by Japs

Japanese Navy Asserts Fliers Couldn't See American Flag

ADMIT LIABILITY

Meanwhile, Japanese Troops Occupy Nanking, China's Capital

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Roosevelt Monday conveyed to the Emperor of Japan an expression of his deep concern over the bombing of the American gunboat Panay.

Simultaneously the United States government transmitted to the Japanese government a demand for full compensation, apologies for the incident, and guarantees against repetition of such attack.

The president's expression was transmitted to Hiroshi Saito, Japanese ambassador, by Secretary Hull.

A "Terrible Mistake"

SHANGHAI, China.—(AP)—The Japanese Navy Monday night accepted full blame for the warplane bombardment and sinking of the United States gunboat Panay and two Standard Oil company ships.

It avowed the "profoundest regret" for a "terrible mistake."

An unidentified American seaman died from injuries received in the bombardment by Japanese warplanes in the Yangtze river about 25 miles above Nanking.

Fifteen of the 54 survivors aboard the Panay were injured.

Seventeen were first reported missing, but advice from the British gun-boat Bee said Monday night that 12 Europeans had been sighted on the river shore. They are possibly survivors of the Panay, but definite confirmation was not forthcoming.

Mistaken for Chinese

The Japanese fliers which bombed the ships, according to Read Admiral Tadao Honda, Japanese naval attaché in China, were unable to see foreign flags, and believed the craft to be Chinese.

The British gunboat Bee reported early Tuesday (Oriental time) that she had rescued eight Americans, seven of them seamen from the Panay.

Among the officers listed by the Department of the Navy as with the Panay was Radioman Charles Speed Adams, of Little Rock, Ark.

Badgers Defeat Lakeside High by Score of 46 to 13

PATMOS.—Patmos High School won one of three hotly-fought games played Friday night at Patmos.

In the senior boys game Patmos outfought and outclassed the Blevins Boys. The score was 27-19.

Yancy was high scorer for Patmos with 10 points, followed by Stafford and Mayton with 6 points each. Manning and Nolen led the losers with 9 points each.

This leaves the Patmos team undefeated in the county. Winning over Spring Hill, Saratoga, Columbus, Guernsey and Blevins, and they have only Washington to dispose of to have defeated all county teams.

In the junior game, the Blevins Juniors won by a close score of 17-11. Hosen was high scorer for Blevins with 6 points. This was a thrilling

Guard Captain Is Slain by Convicts

But Authorities Stand Firm and Prison 'Break' Is Averted

COLUMBUS, S. C.—(AP)—A machine-gun company of national guardsmen fired tear-gas shells Sunday to subdue six convicts who staged a prison guard captain to death and headed themselves in the captain's office in a desperate attempt to escape from the state penitentiary.

The victim, Capt. Olin Sanders, was stabbed five times after the felons had defied a two-hour plea by Gov. Olin Johnson to give themselves up. The youthful governor shouted to them, through the door of their barricaded refuge, urging them to submit to avoid bloodshed and obviate the necessity of calling out the National Guard.

"Get us a car. Open the gates. Otherwise I'll be too bad for Sanders," one of the felons retorted.

In vain, the governor begged them to release their captive. Two hours later, the khaki-clad troopers arrived. Another plea was made by Adj. Gen. James C. Dozier, commanding the guardsmen. Again the convicts refused, announcing they would stay there "until hell freezes over."

"If you boys will walk out of there and let Captain Sanders walk out

Economic Study Is Aided by A. Sloan

General Motors Head Contributes 10 Millions to Foundation

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Alfred P. Sloan Jr., chairman of the General Motors Corporation, announced Sunday the donation of $10,000,000 in securities as an endowment to an economics research foundation bearing his name.

The foundation was organized in the summer of 1936, but labor troubles in the automotive industry delayed plans for its operation and financing. Sloan said more than 10,000 shares of General Motors common stock were involved, but the transaction was entirely a personal matter, having "nothing whatsoever to do with General Motors Corporation or my official relationship with same."

"Due to government regulations," he said, "changes in by General Motors holding are a matter of public record on account of my official relationship with that organization, hence it is important, especially in the period of uncertainty now existing, that no prejudice should develop as to the reasons for the action that I am taking."

An "Impossible" Cure For Business Cycles

If you sit back and look at the autumn of 1937 through half-closed eyes, you are apt to get the haunting and melancholy impression that you have seen the whole show before.

There was a busy summer, with bumper crops and plenty of jobs; there was a stockmarket smashup, with soothsayers of high and low degree hastening to announce that falling security prices didn't really mean anything; then came a sharp business recession, layoffs in the factories, demands for farm relief at Washington, and solemn promises from the government that the decline would not be permitted to become serious... surely, you saw all of that before, somewhere?

To be sure: in 1929. How it all comes back to one! How familiar it all is—and how ominous the parallel begins to look, when one remembers what 1929 led up to.

SO the country approaches the end of the year in a state of SO anxious expectancy, wondering whether the old business cycle is going to have its way under new deal as under old. Are we, after all, helpless? Is there nothing we can do but take it, decade after decade.

As of today there doesn't seem to be much reason for optimism. And yet—well, somehow, it is a little comforting to notice a quotation from a letter written by Andrew Carnegie in 1905. This question, reprinted in the Industrial Bulletin circulated by Arthur D. Little, Inc., of Cambridge, Mass., goes as follows:

"We are greatly pleased with our new Winton. From the very start it has done its work and never failed us. There may be improvements yet to come even in such autos, but it is difficult to see much room for them."

Mr. Carnegie wrote that away back in the pleistocene age of automotive development. The motorist then started his engine with the crank, straining his back and risking a fractured wrist. He did not dream of driving in winter; with his inefficient brakes his car was apt enough to skid on dry pavement, and besides there was no way of cleaning snow or ice off the windshield. A cross-country drive of a hundred miles was a miracle if it did not include at least one breakdown and two flat tires. Forty miles an hour was a dizzy speed indeed, and a car even moderately comfortable or controllable in the rain was unheard of.

YET Andrew Carnegie, who could peer as far ahead into the industrial age as the next man, could not conceive that the car of 1905 could ever be improved materially.

What has that to do with the business cycle, depressions, and so on? Nothing, perhaps; but it does indicate that we make the most amazing and unexpected kind of progress, and that the very best effort of one generation is utterly out-classed by the next.

Getting control of the business cycle should not be more of a job than improving the auto of 1905 into the auto of 1937. The brains that did the one job are most certain equal to the other.

Good Music For All

IT is quite possible that the 92-piece symphony orchestra which NBC will put on the air this winter will do more to stimulate a general public enthusiasm for great music than all the existing orchestras have been able to do in a generation.

For the sad fact about the fine music which the ordinary orchestra produces is simply this: the general public, considered as a whole, simply doesn't hear it. The halls in which it is performed are too small, for one thing; worse yet, "society" has managed to put an aura of top hats and evening gowns about symphony music, and the man in the street is made to feel that he isn't particularly wanted on the premises. So the orchestras play to a relatively small stratum of the population.

The NBC orchestra will be different. It will exist solely to send the best music into the home of every citizen who cares to turn on his radio. Good music is about to hunt up its public, instead of letting the public hunt it. The result should be epoch-making.

The Family Doctor

T. M. Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

By DR. MORRIS FISHBEN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association, and of Hygiene, the Health Magazine.

Early Stage of Syphilis Infection Is Time to Fight Locomotor Ataxia

This is the fourth in a series in which Dr. Fishben discusses cause, effect and treatment of diseases of the nervous system.

(No. 395)

Among the most serious of the disturbances is ultimate paralysis of the nervous system as far as it controls the bladder. Unfortunately the patient may eventually lose voluntarily control of all of the organs associated with the excretion of waste material from the body.

Without suitable treatment, it is the tendency for this disease gradually to become worse for many years until the patient finally has to lie in bed. Unfortunately for these patients, in some instances the course of this disease requires several years. In rare cases the symptoms develop rapidly.

Every patient with a condition of this sort must be under the immediate care of a competent physician. It is important to watch for a great many of the patients may be obtained by a suitable study of the diet and other factors in the hygiene of the body.

Most important is the special treatment for the syphilitic infection throughout the body. This the doctor controls by regularly examining both the spinal fluid and the blood, at the time studying regularly the symptoms from which the patient suffers. While few cases seem to develop complete cures, in a great many cases modern methods of treatment may bring about a stop in the progress of the disease.

In addition to locomotor ataxia, infections of the nervous system with the later stages of this venereal disease bring about all sorts of strange disturbances.

There are terms of meningitis, of softening of the spinal cord, of tumor, of changes in the blood vessels, and many similar conditions. For that reason every person who ever has had this form of venereal disease, even though once announced as cured, should have another examination of the blood with the Wasserman test at fairly frequent intervals—say, at least every few years—and also, after some time, a Wasserman test of the spinal fluid.

It is possible in many instances to arrest the progress of this condition if treatment is begun in the early stages. It is not possible to do much after locomotor ataxia has become well established.

NEXT: Paresis, or general paralysis.

While seeking to solve the financial tangle officials are eyeing more than $41,000,000 of " earmarked " funds in the state treasury, but these can not be used to pay general fund warrants.

The legislature which adjourned last May appropriated more than $12,000,000 exclusive of the old age pension and other special funds, to be paid from the general fund during the biennium which started last July 1. It enacted a two per cent service tax which it expected to yield much of the revenue. The treasurer estimates that only $8,500,000 will be received to meet these general fund appropriations.

J. A. Larsen, principal of Little Rock high school, urged that golf, tennis and water sports be included in the conference athletic program. Members said they would attempt to work out such a program for consideration at the spring meeting.

Gov. Teller Ammons denied state Auditor Thomas Ammons's request for a special session of the legislature to consider the financial muddle. The governor said he may invoke the state power act which allows him to suspend for not to exceed three months activities of a department where funds are exhausted.

HADES JONES—planner; member Barry's party

Yesterday: Having satisfied the curiosity of the strange people, Hades and Melissa obtain a guide and begin their return journey back through the caverns.

CHAPTER XXII

SINCE they had slipped away in the dawn that morning, Mary Melissa and Bob had been gone six days. They weren't sure of that until later, but Bob estimated that they had been gone anywhere from four to eight days; he just couldn't say exactly how long they had first been in the cave, so harrowing were those dark hours.

It is almost miraculous that Hades Jones didn't find them in all that time. Left to his own inclinations he no doubt would have climbed to Defiance Castle, found the inner cave entrance and started a search. But Hades was past 70 years of age. Climbing 600 feet of assorted ladders and precarious toe holds was not exactly easy, and he realized it. Not that he couldn't do it—oh no! But it would be best to have a good reason.

He didn't worry much until the third day, in fact. He had the rather vague note that Bob had left. Honey Bee assured him that Bob and Lissa had departed in the direction opposite the cliff. The main worry for Hades was the fact that the absent ones had not taken their horses. Where could they be going on foot, for so long? There wasn't anywhere to go, that he could figure. Furthermore, why couldn't he find their trail?

Two days had passed before he thought to look for tracks, and wind had blown considerably in the meantime. Hades once was an expert trailer, but blowing dry sand soon erases tracks and a trailer is forced to detect such difficult signs as broken grass, shoe marks on rocks, bent wigs in brush. This is very hard to do in desert regions. Hades circled the camp a half mile, so out, but he could pick up no likely signs. He came back and questioned Honey Bee.

"YOU say they never said where they were going to?"

"Bawb say they go away, us to wait," Honey Bee insisted. "But where to, damn it?"

She shook her head. "I wish I could say," the Indian girl declared, truthfully.

"Waal, we better climb up there'n look. They mighta got hurt or something." Hades leaned back to stare at the high cliff castle.

Scott Holliman had squatted, cowboy fashion, within hearing of this conversation, and now he took part for the first time.

"Ain't you already been up there, cookie? Didn't I see you up on them ladders last night?" Holliman addressed Honey Bee.

The girl nodded. She had indeed gone up. Most of the way, but not quite all. She had been mooning about the matter, meditating over the absence of the man she loved. The thought of his taking her rival angered her in the first place, and his prolonged absence with Lissa was beginning to drive Honey Bee into brooding jealousy. But Bob had commanded her to silence about the new cave. He was her man, she must obey. She had thought of all these things as she climbed. She had faith in his ability to take care of himself—what harm could befall a grown man and woman, adequately equipped with water, food, a lantern, spare candles, everything? She had no belief in "ghosts" and such yarns. And she had an Indian's patience; she could wait.

"Waal, if you already been up there to look, that settles that," Hades ruled. "They've slipped off somewhere." He shook his head, confused at the strange turn of events.

HOLLIMAN went on with the work he was hired to do, building first permanent pole frames for the tents, making tables, chairs, a fireplace, then assisting Hades Jones to build a corral. He was a plodder type unless something stimulated him into extraneous action.

He did talk once to Honey Bee about his deal with her concerning Mary Melissa. But Honey Bee was not inclined to discuss it. She was sure. Things had gotten out of hand. All three of them were, in fact, getting anxious, increasingly touchy, as days passed.

And Holliman may have noted that Hades was absent part of the time, but they didn't bother. The old man, as a matter of fact, was "cutting trail." He rode and he walked, inspecting every ravine, every coyote track, every possible place for signs of the missing ones. It bothered him that he could pick up no track.

On the fifth day of Bob's and Lissa's absence, Holliman left the camp himself, permanently. Tempers all were strained by that time, and the showdown incident to Holliman's departure served to relieve Hades some. He had "blowed off steam" as he would have put it. Scott Holliman, lucky to be alive, must have had a long and tiresome walk back to civilization, but 40-odd miles wouldn't kill him.

Soon after sunup on the sixth day, Hades was still at the corral doctoring a mule that had been injured, when he chanced to glance up the face of the cliff.

"Waal, I'll be fried and buttered!" he exclaimed, mumbling to himself. "Thar goes that squaw up thar!"

IT was true. Honey Bee was climbing the ladders. She had thought Hades gone for the morning, as usual, perhaps miles from camp and entirely out of range as to vision. She had brooded all night.

Mental pictures of Bob and Mary Melissa had bedeviled the Indian for days. She couldn't stand it, she told herself. So she determined at breakfast to climb the ladders, take a lantern of her own and go into the new cave. The time had come when she could no longer obey her loved one's command to wait. She must see if he were in danger.

When she had reached the top ladder, Honey Bee had worked up an intense hatred anew for Mary Melissa.

"He would not have been lost, but for her," Honey Bee told herself.

She lighted the lantern, after a quick inspection of the castle rooms. It burned evenly, brightly. She entered the darkness, quietly saw the chained arrows Bob had made, marking his and Lissa's trail. She saw the shriveled human body in its niche, too, paused a moment to study it. Death! Death! What took the white girl out of the way," Honey Bee was thinking.

On the Indian's countenance, as she stood there, came a strange, somehow savage expression.

HEAT FOR HEALTH

Your health and your family's health during the winter months is affected directly by the type of heat used in your home. Here's how you may eliminate the hazards of abrupt temperature changes, frigid floors, excessive moisture, devitalized air and provide your home with an abundance of clean, fresh warm air at the proper temperature for both comfort and health.

Regardless of weather conditions a Gas-Fired Floor Furnace will eliminate the inefficiencies of old-fashioned equipment... will provide pleasant trouble-free warmth that is circulated continuously to every corner of the house—safely, conveniently and economically. A Floor Furnace is installed beneath the floor, requires no basement and takes no room space. Burner is in a sealed combustion chamber which is vented to the outside. Guaranteed by your gas company and manufacturer.

One of our heating engineers will be glad to furnish complete information as to the best method of heating your home. Telephone today for appointment.

Christmas Will Send You Home

All through the year you may wander, but Christmas will send you home. Where the logs are piled for the hearth. When the holly that hangs in the window is brought from the mountain loam. You will think of the ones who are watching for your return. Though you may stand on the rim of the world, away from the beaten track. Look to the date and the season, for the odor of pine or the chime of a bell will suddenly take you back to a tree that was laden with Christmas gifts and the bells of a passing sleigh. Christmas is more than a gilded star festooned by gilded strings; more than an altar for costly gifts where the best of it all lies slain. 'Tis the voice of a friend, the clasp of a hand or the knowledge of love that brings. The ones most dear from the scattered paths, guiding them home again. —Selected.

Hope Given Praise by Dr. Morrison

Conference Evangelist Reports on Recent M. E. Conference Here

The following article was written by Dr. H. C. Morrison, the conference evangelist who preached at the recent session of the Little Rock Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South held in Hope, November 10-14. (Dr. Morrison is editor of "The Penmanship" in which this expression of his appreciation of Hope and the conference appeared. Dr. Morrison is a Methodist minister and has been for many years.)

Down in Arkansas It was my privilege to deliver the evangelistic messages to the Little Rock Conference which convened Nov. 10-14 at Hope, Ark., one of the most beautiful little cities of 6,000 population I have seen in quite a while. It is a sort of railroad center and a place of considerable industry. It has a large handle factory which ships vast quantities of handles for picks, hatchets, hammers and various uses, not only to many points in the United States, but foreign countries. It also has a cotton gin, a cotton mill, and a large cottonseed oil mill. It also has a sawmill and other industries that afford employment to a considerable number of men. It is surrounded by a fine farming country. Near Hope is the Agriculture State Farm which gives evidence of splendid progress in the cultivation of soil to the best advantage. The farmers gather at this Agriculture Farm and learn the art of cultivation and fertilization to best advantage. On certain days the white farmers gather, and on certain days the colored farmers gather and receive the same advantage as their white fellow farmers.

I arrived in Hope a day ahead of time and was entertained at Hotel Barlow until the opening of conference. It is one of the best hotels I ever saw in a city of 6,000 people, owned by Mr. John D. Barlow, a fine gentleman. The clerk, Mr. Charles Wylie, was so courteous to me that I found the place, not only restful, but delightful. I committed it to any of my friends who may happen to pass through Hope, Ark.

Bishop John M. Moore presided over the conference. He gave an interesting account of his recent visits in Europe to those church councils looking toward closer fellowship of the various Protestant denominations. Bishop Moore received me kindly as the evangelistic messenger of the conference. I was the evangelist of this conference some twelve or fifteen years ago and have never been received more kindly by brethren anywhere than at Hope. They are a fine looking body of men. Dr. Miller, Editor of the Arkansas Methodist, one of the great leaders of Methodism, was present and I had a delightful visit with him. I sometimes hear the complaint made that the icans were unaccounted for. There were 54 known survivors, some of them wounded.

The gunboat's normal complement was 55 officers and men. In addition the "mercy ship" carried at least nine American refugees, including four embassy officials.

Several Standard Oil company ships were sunk at the same time.

To Fix Responsibility The Japanese navy quickly accepted responsibility for the incident. A Japanese statement pledged immediate steps to place the blame on military units responsible, and regretted the bombing "most deeply."

Earlier, British naval reports said, Colonel Hashimoto, senior Japanese officer, declared he had orders to "fire on every ship on the river."

His statement was made in reply to a British protest against shelling of the British gunboat Ladybird at Wuhu. A British seaman was killed and two other Britons wounded there.

Yarnell Cancels Departure Officials of the United States flag-ship Augusta said they believed 72 persons were aboard the ill-fated gunboat. Those missing apparently were killed by the Japanese bombs or drowned when the vessel sank. Some might have reached land without communication facilities.

Most survivors were put ashore by rescue vessels at Hsiehien, Anhwei province.

Rear Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, chief of the United States Asiatic fleet, cancelled his scheduled departure for Manila tomorrow in face of the serious incident.

Writers and Cameramen The American consulate said Americans believed aboard were: Norman Alley, Fox Movietone cameraman; Weldon James, United Press correspondent; Norman Soong, New York Times correspondent; Roy Squires, American-born in China; James Marshall, Collier's magazine writer; T. J. Broderick, Standard Oil Co. representative; A. L. Patterson, China Air Motors employee.

Also the four American embassy staff members.

Both Chinese and Japanese planes were reported active outside Nanking today. However, reports from the war front were that only six Chinese bombers were in the air.

To Aid Americans The vessel had stood by Nanking, anchored in the Yangtze, to give aid to American refugees when necessary during the Japanese siege.

Other American gunboats removed United States refugees in the past week to cities up the river after the Chinese government moved headquarters to three interior cities. Ambassador Nelson T. Johnson moved to the interior November 23, leaving Acheson and Paxton in charge.

The two second secretaries spent nights aboard the gunboat for protection and returned to the city during the day until it was considered advisable for the Panay to seek safer waters.

The gunboat Luzon, with two other gunboats, is stationed at Hankow. The Government Wins Gold Interest Test

Litigation Originated With R. A. Taft of Cincinnati, Ohio

WASHINGTON.—(P)—The government succeeded in the supreme court Monday in an effort to escape paying interest on gold bonds that were called for redemption in advance of their maturity date.

The litigation was started by Robert A. Taft, Cincinnati; the estate of James J. Ransom of Des Moines; and Arthur Machen, Baltimore.

6 points, while Mayton led the loser game.

In the senior girls game, the Blevins girls won a closely-contested battle, the score being 31-29. Blevins led at the half 15-12 but Patmos staged a rally in the third period to forge ahead at the end of the third period. In the last two minutes of play Blevins forged ahead to win.

Wednesday night Patmos will play Emmet three games at Patmos. Thursday night the P. T. A. of Patmos will sponsor two games made up of the parents of the school district. Friday night Patmos senior boys takes on the Washington senior boys.

Bodeaw Downs Lakeside BODECAW — Bodeaw Badgers won two games from Lakeside here Friday afternoon.

In the senior boys game, Allen of the Lakeside Rams started the scoring, followed by Bailey for the Badgers. The battle was hard and fast in the opening minutes, but the Badgers soon pulled ahead to win by a score of 46-13.

Bailey won the Badgers high point honors by scoring 13 points. Dunn and J. Butler were close behind with 12 points each. Southerland and Taylor scored 5 points each for the Rams.

The junior game got off to a flying start when Dorman of Bodeaw found the mark for a counter before the game was well under way. Lakeside scored only one point in the first half, and Bodeaw easily took the lead in the last half to win 33-6.

O. Butler for Bodeaw was high point man with 13 points.

The girls game like Wednesday night's was the closest of the day. The scoring was slow to start, the quarter being 1-1 at the end of the first quarter. The guards on each side were putting up a defense that was hard to break through. Lakeside took a slight lead through the last three quarters winning 10-13.

In the closing minutes of play T. Butler of Bodeaw did some especially remarkable playing in fruitless efforts to score over Lakeside's guards.

T. Johnson of Lakeside and T. Butler of Bodeaw scored 5 points each.

Bodeaw B team boys journeyed to Falcon Friday Morning to take a trouncing from the Falcon squad by the close score of 14-15.

Hendrix of Falcon won individual scoring honors by accounting for 11 points while M. Butler scored 6 points for the Bodeaw lads.

Bodeaw girls won their first game in the Buckner invitation tournament Friday morning, defeating the Buckner girls 21-16. The finals of this tournament will be played Saturday night.

Mineral Springs In the Mineral Springs gym last Tuesday night, the Saratoga boys senior and B teams were defeated by the Mineral Springs Hornets. The boys score was 36 to 13. The B team's game was a hardfought battle, the Hornets winning 17 to 16.

On December 7, the Saratoga Bulldog girls were defeated by the Mineral Springs Hornets. The score being 29-14. The Saratoga teams are to play Fulton Friday at Saratoga.

Willsville Wins The Willsville Lions defeated the Lakeside Rams, Friday, December 10. The Willsville senior boys defeated the Lakeside senior boys 31-18.

Harold West was high score man for the Lions with 12 points. M. Simpson next highest with 11 points. The high score man for the Rams was Southern with 3 points. Gibson next highest with 2 points.

The Willsville senior girls defeated the Lakeside senior girls 24-20.

Alene Silvey was high scorer for the Lions with 15 points. Daisy Waters next with 5 points. M. Janson and L. Janson tied for high score honors with 8 points. The next highest was Veasley with 4 points.

Myrth Herring, Christine Ponds and Flora Mas Jackson, guards for Willsville played an extra good game.

The Willsville junior girls defeated Lakeside juniors 26 to 18. M. Herring was high scorer for the Lions with 14 points. L. Shaford next highest.

Schmeling, Thomas Ready for Battle

Max's Opponent Has Won 51 of His 56 Professional Fights

NEW YORK.—(AP)—The heavyweight bout between Max Schmeling and Harry Thomas at New York, will be broadcast over NBC at 9:15 p. m. CST Monday.

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Herr Max Schmeling, the man who showed them Joe Louis could be whipped, returns to the boxing ring Monday night in a 15-round engagement with Harry Thomas, hard-hitting Chicago heavy, in Madison Square Garden.

For Schmeling this is merely the first of several warm up bouts to gear him for a June title struggle with Louis, whom Max kayoed last year, but it may prove a stiffer test than a lot of people (Schmeling included, figure. Thomas is not the best heavy-weight in the world, but neither is he anybody's pushover.

He is a rugged young man who has won 51 of his 56 professional fights. Most of them were against second and third raters but Harry won 43 of them via the knockout route. He has never been knocked down, much less knocked out. He is dead game and socks hard with either fist.

Although Thomas has been the recipient of the most elaborate build-up given a fighter in recent years, not many rate him better than an outside chance to trim Max and upset the fistie apple cart.

"Der Schelger" has his way, there'll be no speedy knockout. Max needs work.

Odds on the German soared from 2 to 1 to 3 to 1 Sunday with the likelihood they may be even higher when the boys clomb into the ring at approximately 9 p. m. (CST). Little or no betting is reported.

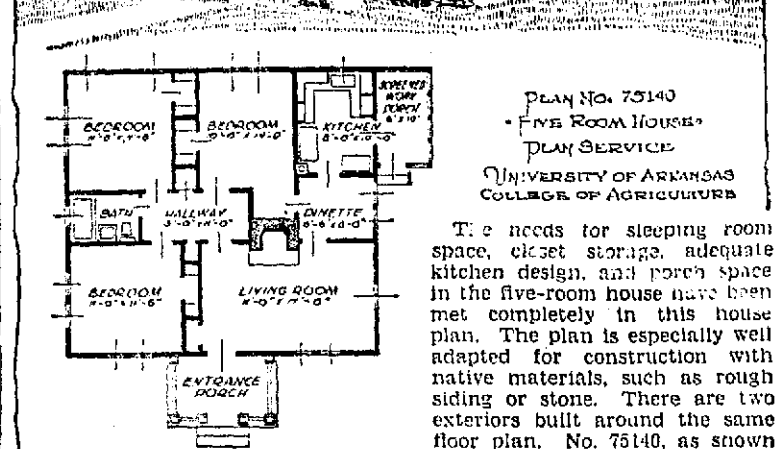

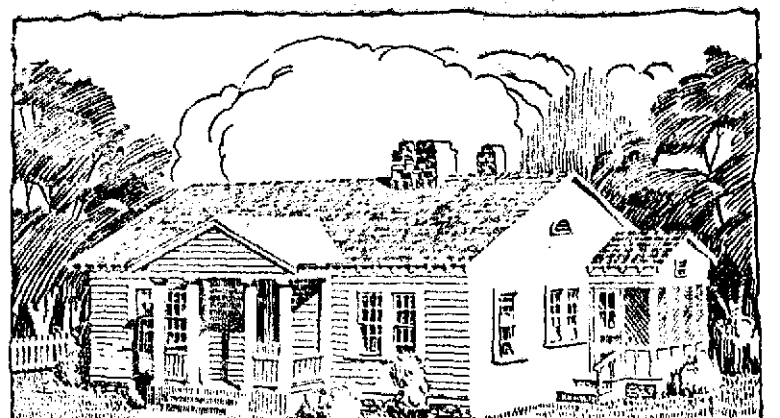

Cheered by Saturday's ticket sale, Promoter Mike Jacobs continued to insist the fight will gross $75,000, with between 15,000 and 17,000 customers in the stands. Champion Joe Louis got in Sunday and will be at the ring-side.

Weighing in ceremonies will be held in the garden at noon Monday.

Plans for This 5-Room House Show 3 Good-Sized Bedrooms

The needs for sleeping room space, closet storage, adequate kitchen design, and porch space in the five-room house have been met completely in this house plan. The plan is especially well adapted for construction with native materials, such as rough siding or stone. There are two exterior walls built around the same floor plan. No. 75140, as shown above, is a more formal design, with small gabled-roof front porch. The other, Plan No. 75141, has the wide, shed-type porch across the entire front of the house. Complete working drawings for this house are available from the County Agent and Home Demonstration Agent of this county. This house plan is one of more than a hundred designs of farm buildings and equipment designed to meet Arkansas conditions by the University of Arkansas College of Agriculture for the farm people of this state.

Auburn Team Prepares for Orange Bowl Game

AUBURN, Ala.—(AP)—Auburn's Orange Bowl bound Plainsmen, who finished third with in the Southeastern conference on a "suicide" schedule, will begin preparation Monday for their Michigan State New Year's Day encounter.

The Plainsmen marked time, more or less, from the time of the Orange Bowl bid until Southeastern conference approval was given for acceptance. Coach Jack Meagher was due back Monday from the conference meeting at Jackson, Miss.

Last New Year's Day the Plainsmen fought Villanova, with whom they played a scoreless dead-lock this season, to a 7-7 draw in Havana's Rumba Bowl.

Negro Goodfellow Drive Is Organized

Ray Johnson Is Chairman of Hope Negroes' Xmas Campaign

Ray Johnson will head the negro Goodfellows campaign in Hope this year. He succeeds W. L. (Shorty) Holbert as chairman of the drive. Johnson asked that all needy negro families register with Chester H. Yarger.

The negro Goodfellows club distributed needy Christmas gifts to approximately 50 families last year. Johnson said that authorized collectors would canvass the town for funds.

Wright Brothers Flight Observed

Army Air Corps Celebrates First Flight of 34 Years Ago

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The Army Air Corps prepared Sunday night to spread its mighty wings this week in commemoration of the first flight of an airplane.

Under orders from the General Staff every military flying post in the country will send all available aircraft aloft Friday, at the hour that Orville and Wilbur Wright made history 34 years ago.

About 1,000 fighting planes are expected to salute the two former bicycle mechanics whose achievement began a new era in civilian and military communications. The Wright brothers made the first successful flight at Kill Devil Hill, a bleak sandy spit near Kitty Hawk, N. C., about 80 miles south of Norfolk, Va.

Great four-engined bombers, capable of carrying tons of explosives at speeds of more than 200 miles per hour, swift pursuit and attack planes that can travel much more swiftly, and large transport planes equipped to carry more than a full squad of men long distances will maneuver in all parts of the country.

The Rose Bowl Teams Have Been There Often

The proportion of Russian expatriates in theatrical and film centers proves that there has been no appreciable letdown in isargazing.

In Russia's first popular election, the political football coaches will be assembled from among the most prominent old Lenin-grads.
